DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Patent No.

6,321,338, Porras et al.

3. Regarding claims 1, 13, Porras show executing an application program at a system that includes at least a processor and a memory (Porras, Fig. 6, col. 14, line 46-48);

receiving a plurality of bits at the system for use by the application program (monitor, computer program, Porras, col. 1, line 55-56, col. 2, line 24-27);

determining if at least one of the plurality of received bits (network packets) is improperly transmitted to someplace other than for use by the application program (data transfer errors, Porras, col. 1, line 57-58); and transmitting a message if it is determined that the at least one of the plurality of received bits is improperly transmitted (Porras, col. 2, line 4-7).

4. Regarding claims 2, 7 Porras shows claim 1 above, and further show the step of determining if the at least one of the plurality of bits is improperly transmitted including the step of:

determining if at least one of plurality of received bits is improperly transmitted from the system to another device via at least one communications link (Porras, col. 2, line 14-18).

5. Regarding claims 3, 8, Porras shows claim 1 above, and further show the step of determining if he at least one of the plurality of bits is improperly transmitted including the step of: determining if the at least one of the plurality of received bits is improperly transmitted to a storage device in the system (processor to receive network packets, mass storage device, Porras, col. 2, line 27-28, col. 14, line 46-47).

6. Regarding claims 4, 9, Porras shows claim 1 above, and further show comprising the step of displaying a video using the received bits (network packet, Porras, col. 1, line 45).

7. Regarding claims 5, 10, Porras shows claim 1 above, and further show comprising the step of displaying a reading material using the received bits (network packet, Porras, col. 1, line 45).

8. Regarding claim 11, Porras shows claim 6 above, and further show wherein the apparatus is a Personal Computer (PC) card for use in a computer (Porras, Fig. 6).
